Things to bring: dish to share (appetizers and deserts are also an added enjoyment), Labrador related gift for gift exchange, and BYOB

Details: For the newcomers this is what we have done in the past. We start off with cocktails and appetizers and dinner will follow usually around 7:30 or so, but remember we are never on schedule. After dinner we all gather for our gift exchange. This is quite the event. Anyone who wants to participate is to bring a gift with no name on it. It is placed in the pile and we pass out a number to each person. When your number is called you have the opportunity to pick from the pile or steal an already opened gift from someone. If your gift is stolen from you, then you go back to the pile and open another gift or steal an already opened gift from someone else. A gift can only be stolen 3 times and the 3rd time the gift is retired and can not be stolen again.

Now mind you this can get ugly (all in fun of course) and the goal in the past is to bring a gift that people will really fight over. There is no money limit on the gifts as sometimes the best bargains are the best gifts.

Examples of gifts in the past have been dog beds, Labrador rugs, Labrador jewelry, Labrador glassware etc. Some people have wrapped their gift in such a creative way that what you think is in the box may turn out to be a total surprise.

Please RSVP by December 12 to Jan Eichensehr at 740-965-1312; please leave a message if no answer or email: jpaws@earthlink.net
