Prez Notes

Hello members,

Fall is approaching so we have to think about gearing up for the specialty, elections and some scheduling for next year.

Specialty events are falling into place, I am currently proof reading the premium list and the mailing date is scheduled for early September. Jan has picked up the pottery prizes, I need to work on trophy engraving and ribbon orders so that is done in advance. I have had contact from our judges and they are scheduling their flights and looking forward to their assignments. Remember to collect your raffle donations and get them to Joni either at the September or October meetings so she has some time to assemble her fabulous baskets. Keep in mind that as always, the raffle is the sole profit portion of the specialty so please be generous with your time and donations to help make this a success.

Volunteers will be needed for many tasks when the specialty date is close so please be prepared to help in any way you can.

We need to be thinking of a nominating committee so if anyone is interested in volunteering for either the committee or a board position, please feel free to contact me.

On a personal note, I want to thank everyone for their support of various club members that have had some major medical issues these past few months. Ron Bell seems to be recovering well from a fall that fractured several neck vertebrae, Jennifer is doing well with her chemo and just this past week my husband Rich had an emergency appendectomy and hopefully will be on the mend soon. All of these members have had many contacts and well wishes from other members so it is nice to see the support for one another that this club was built upon.

Keep up the good work, see you in September.

At this time, COLRC Unleashed! Does not require listing of CERF or OFA information for Litter Box Listings. All breeders are encouraged to have hips and eyes certified on all breeding stock and to provide this information in litter listings. COLRC Unleashed! does not represent any litter listing as meeting any type of breeder's code or standard. Ask the breeder when inquiring about dogs listed.

How to Remove a Tick

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

Removing a tick from your cat or dog is easy if you just follow these simple steps.

To remove an attached tick, use a pair of fine-tipped tweezers or special tick removal instruments. These special devices allow one to remove the tick without squeezing the tick body. This is important as you do not want to crush the tick and force harmful bacteria to leave the tick and enter your pet's bloodstream.

1. Grab the tick by the head or mouth parts right where they enter the skin. Do not grasp the tick by the body.
2. Without jerking, pull firmly and steadily directly outward. Do not twist the tick as you are pulling.
3. Using methods such as applying petroleum jelly, a hot match, or alcohol will NOT cause the tick to 'back out.' In fact, these irritants may cause the tick to deposit more disease-carrying saliva in the wound.
4. After removing the tick, place it in a jar of alcohol to kill it. Ticks are NOT killed by flushing them down the toilet.
5. Clean the bite wound with a disinfectant. If you want to, apply a small amount of a triple antibiotic ointment.
6. Wash your hands thoroughly.

Please do not use your fingers to remove or dispose of the tick. We do not want you in contact with a potentially disease-carrying tick. Do NOT squash the tick with your fingers. The contents of the tick can transmit disease.

Once an embedded tick is manually removed, it is not uncommon for a welt and skin reaction to occur. A little hydrocortisone spray will help alleviate the irritation, but it may take a week or more for healing to take place. In some cases, the tick bite may permanently scar leaving a hairless area. This skin irritation is due to a reaction to tick saliva. Do not be worried about the tick head staying in; it rarely happens.
